

LAVENDER FIELD MINI SHOOT GUIDE

OUTFIT INSPIRATION

In terms of clothing for your shoot, I'd suggest sticking to a mainly neutral/muted palette such as white, cream, tan, denim and pastels with optional pops of colour for one or two key pieces, such as a soft purple or rich yellow.

I'd suggest avoiding black, neon colours and slogans or pictures on clothing as these don't tend to photograph well and can be distracting. Aim for colour combinations that compliment each other, rather than matching.

Most importantly, make sure everyone feels comfortable and good in what they're wearing! Flat shoes are advised given the location for these shoots.

I am more than happy to help with outfit choices - feel free to send over some photos of your options if you'd like my opinion!

WHAT TO EXPECT AND HOW TO PREPARE

My mini shoots are just a shortened version of my usual sessions - very relaxed, unposed and natural. When you arrive at the location (see below) I will be finishing up with the previous session so please wait to one side of the field and I will call you over when it's time for your shoot.

Over the 20 minute session I will make suggestions for where to sit/stand, which direction to walk in etc. and there will be occasional 'smile for the camera' moments but a majority of the shoot will be unprompted and candid. If there are any specific shots you have in mind please let me know before the session and I will do my best to weave these in.

Have a think about whether there are any special items you would like to incorporate into the shoot such as a scan photo for maternity sessions or a favourite toy for baby shoots and bring these along. Also remember to bring along anything you may need to help the shoot run smoothly, such as snacks for little ones and extra layers in case it gets a bit cooler.

LOCATION

The location for the Lavender Field Mini Sessions is Inglebrook Farm, Moss Nook Ln, Rainford, WA11 8AE, accessible directly from Rainford By-Pass. As you look at the farm from the road, the lavender field is located to the left of the farm buildings.

The car park is located to the right, so please arrive in enough time to walk from the car park to the field. Arriving late will result in a shorter shoot as time slots are back-to-back and cannot be extended.
